

TRAGEDY WOMAN IN MURDER

GOVERNMENT TO DEMAND COAL ROW END TODAY

Neither Will Yield as Crisis Nears; U. S. Is Ready.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—The final effort of the administration to settle the strike of the bituminous coal miners and their wage dispute with the operators will get under way tomorrow. A joint meeting of miners and operators is scheduled in the forenoon, at which Fuel Administrator Garfield will try to reconcile the opposing interests.

There also will be a conference attended by Dr. Garfield, Attorney General Palmer, his assistant, Charles E. Ames, and Secretary of Labor Wilson, at which the final moves of the government will be discussed.

Both miners and operators were standing pat today. Acting President Wilson's proposed compromise of a 1.51 per cent wage advance, it is up to the government to obtain the assent of the operators.

Both Say It's Up to U. S.

T. A. Brewster said that the operators were unable to concede so great an advance without greatly increasing the price of coal, it is up to the government to effect a settlement.

Dr. Garfield has carefully concealed tomorrow's plans, although he is known to hold that coal production will be resumed this week, even if the government has to take temporary possession of the mines and employ the army to get out the coal.

It is widely believed that before the government ends the negotiations there will be a disclosure of wartime profits of bituminous operators. While the operators have maintained that they would be compelled to pass a wage advance on to the consumer, Dr. Garfield has insisted that no price advance would be justified by a reasonable pay raise.

Huge Profits Bared by Garfield.

Dr. Garfield undertook to convince the operators at their first interview that nearly all of them could afford to raise wages as much as 30 per cent without advancing prices. According to this figure on production cost, which he submitted from the fuel administration files, the operators have been making huge war profits, a large proportion of which, they have paid over to the government in excess profit taxes.

The operators have been taking enormous profits has been known ever since the government began fixing coal prices. Dr. Garfield admitted that these prices had been fixed high enough to allow a reasonable profit to the mines with the highest cost of production, which were comparatively few in number, and which Dr. Garfield deemed necessary to keep going; to attain maximum fuel production during the war.

The result was that mines of low production cost made immense profits. The administrator relied on the excess profits tax to relieve such operators of their swollen gains.

Ample Able to Raise Pay.

Dr. Garfield holds that most of the operators will still make reasonable profits if they advance wages without raising prices. The only loser will be the government, which will receive less in excess profits taxes. Some high production cost mines might be driven out of business, but many of these mines were not operated extensively until Garfield encouraged production with his high wartime prices.

The operators did not take kindly to Dr. Garfield's suggestion that they sacrifice their war profits to a wage advance, and their entire fight is now directed to the protection and continuation of the gains to which they have been accustomed in the last two years.

The dispute is now a contest between the operators and the administration. The owners will agree to a 10 per cent wage advance, if the government authorities increased prices. The administration cannot yield without rejecting Dr. Garfield's figures showing a price advance unjustified and without setting at naught its promise to keep down the cost of the necessities of life.

QUESTION WIFE OF LOOP BANKER $200,000 SHORT

Dramatic Denouement at Club Bared; Miles Still Missing.

BULLETIN.

A mysterious move by detectives and the family of Banker Miles was made early this morning. Mrs. Miles, her brother, and her mother, left Hoynes's office at 1 o'clock, presumably to go home. But at 2 o'clock their auto was still standing in front of the Criminal court building. The detectives' car was not there. But at 2:30 o'clock the latter car returned, the Miles family and a professional bondsman having accompanied the officers on their trip, the object of which was not revealed.

Mrs. Marjorie Miles, pretty wife of James M. Miles, discharged vice president of the Standard Trust and Savings bank, was questioned at the state's attorney's office last night concerning the disappearance of her husband after defaulting various friends and banks of $200,000.

The calling of Mrs. Miles to the state's attorney's office from her home, at 1138 East Forty-eighth street, was decided upon after the city had been scoured for traces of the missing banker by a small army of detectives.

She arrived at the Criminal Court building at 10:30, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Gillies, William B. Gillies, her brother; Albert Mohr, South park commissioner; Mrs. Mohr, and Detective Sergeant William Murnane.

On Verge of Tears.

She was on the verge of tears. "My husband never mentioned his financial deals to me," said the wife. "I was content to live upon his salary, which was ample for our needs, and always thought he was, too. He has always given me and our child Eleanor everything we needed and has been a wonderful husband and father. I still love him, believe in him, and am confident that in the end everything will come out all right."

"We do not know where Miles is," said Gillies after the session.

Dramatic Exposure.

Meanwhile the facts concerning the dramatic exposure of Miles on Friday night at the South Shore Country club and his partial restitution, became known.

Gathered about a mahogany table in the office of Charles S. Castle, president of the bank, at 105 West Monroe street was a group of astonished directors listening to the hard facts presented by C. H. Meyer, bank examiner.

The telephone rang. Castle answered.

"You can find Miles at the South Shore Country club if you want him." Then the receiver clicked as the unknown informant disconnected.

The club was nearly ten miles away from the bank. Minutes were precious. Castle telephoned Miles' brother-in-law, Robert A. Gillies, at his home, 7348 Yates avenue, a short walk from the club. He asked him to go over and bring the missing president to the bank.

Gillies took his brother, Albert Gillies, with him and went.

Confesses to Brothers-in-Law.

Starting moodily at the lake from a massive arm chair in a lounging room, they found Miles.

The conversation then ran: "Is this true—that they say, Jim?" asked Robert Gillies.

"Yes, it's all true; more than they know," replied Miles.

"How much—how bad is it?" "I don't know, Bob."

"Is it $100,000?" "More than that."

"Yes, and then some. It's a darn sight more than any one thinks."

"Don't you think you better come along down to the bank?" "No, I'm going away. I'm in for (Continued on page 10, column 3.)

THE CHANGING WORLD

[Copyright: 1919: By John T. McCutcheon.]

Formerly the agitators in London were allowed to go out in Hyde park and say anything they pleased about anybody or anything. But now the mental balance of the world is so shaky that freedom of dangerous speech has to be curbed.

In former times the political party platform builders gave small consideration to the "foreign relations" plank. But next year you will find that the platform builders will give the "foreign relations" plank a most important place.

In the old untroubled days the mottoes on the walls taught thrift and other homely virtues. But now the mottoes of yesterday have undergone a change to fit the tendencies of today.

'JOKER' PHONES MARSHALL THAT 'WILSON IS DEAD'

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 23.—Through a hoax perpetrated by an unidentified person tonight, an address by Vice President Marshall before an audience of several thousand persons at the army was broken up by the false announcement that President Wilson was dead.

The man telephoned to and asked for the vice president. When advised that Mr. Marshall was speaking, and could not come to the telephone, the voice replied, "Well, he'll come now, for the president is dead, and Washington wants him on long distance."

A policeman took the news to the stage and the vice president was informed that "the president is dead."

Mr. Marshall bowed his head. Then he told the audience, and added: "I cannot bear the great burdens of our beloved chieftain unless I receive the assistance of everybody in this country."

Women began weeping, and some one began to play "Nearer, My God, to Thee" on the organ.

As soon as he could the vice president got to a telephone and called the Associated Press, where he was assured that there was no truth in the rumor.

"Thank God," he replied. Meantime the report spread over the city. Gov. Dorey announced a reward for evidence identifying the man who started the rumor.

The steamer Calumet, passing here late today, reported sighting a waterlogged lifeboat south of Whitefish Point. As far as could be ascertained the boat was unoccupied.

The barge Mitec, which the Myron had in tow when it left Munising, down bound, was cut loose and was picked up by an unknown steamer, which towed it into shelter at Whitefish Point. The barge's deck load of lumber and rudder were carried away, but it is understood its crew is safe.

Wireless Reveals Disaster.

First word of the mishap to the Myron came by wireless from the steamer Farling, lying in shelter behind Whitefish Point. When the steamer Adriatic, too, covered, locked through here today its captain reported that he twice turned his ship around trying to pick up the stricken vessel's crew, who were then in two lifeboats. The men were unable to hold the lines, however, and the attempt at rescue had to be abandoned.

The steamer McIntosh later passed through wreckage of the Myron close enough to throw lines to several men seen clinging to the cabin. The men had life preservers on and were calling for help. One man also had a small flashlight.

This attempt at rescue also failed and the men, unable to grasp the lines, had to be left to their fate.

Third Wreck in Two Weeks.

The Myron is the third vessel swallowed up by storm-driven Lake Superior in the last two weeks. The other two were the H. E. Rannels and the John Owen, the latter with the loss of its crew of twenty-two.

The steamer Myron, of wooden construction, was built in Grand Haven, Mich., in 1888. It was 186 feet long with a beam of 33 feet and 676 gross tons.

O. W. Blodgett of Bay City, the vessel's owner, is understood to be en route to this city tonight from Chicago.

Terrific Nor'wester Rips Myron Off Whitefish Point; Hunt Bodies.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 23.—Eighteen persons, comprising the crew of the steamer Myron, are believed tonight to have been added to the victims of Lake Superior's fury of the last two weeks.

Caught in a terrific norwester, the Myron foundered a mile and a half off Whitefish Point last night, and early today sank in four fathoms.

Tonight coast guards are patrolling the shores of Whitefish Point for forty-five miles, hoping the Myron's two lifeboats will be blown ashore.

U. S. Subchaser Hunts Bodies.

The United States subchaser 423 also was scouring the bay tonight for possible survivors.

NAME SUPPLIES TRIANGLE CLEW; DIARY IS FOUND

Three Quizzed; One Bares Identity of Principal.

The name of the mysterious woman who figured in the triangle which the state's attorney's office now believes furnishes the motive for the slaying of Attorney James P. Gallagher is in the possession of Morris Wilson, chief investigator for State's Attorney Hoynes. Detectives are searching for her and she is expected to be in custody this morning.

The name was obtained early this morning from Mrs. Catherine Stehle, one time friend of Attorney Gallagher, and also of the woman who, she says, was the slain attorney's most intimate acquaintance up to the time of his death.

The woman described by Mrs. Stehle is, the authorities are convinced, the same woman mentioned by Attorney Samuel G. Muffett, former law partner of Gallagher, as the "beautiful brunette" he saw Gallagher meet two years ago just north of the Howard avenue boundary line in Evanston.

Reveals "Hidden Life."

Mrs. Stehle supplied information which corroborates Muffett's story of a love affair of long standing and of a scorned suitor. She revealed a side of Attorney Gallagher's life which is different from that hitherto divulged. He had been pictured as a studious, religious man of staid habits, with little thought for women. Mrs. Stehle's story involved visits to socials, clubs, and dances.

Mrs. Stehle said she knew the woman of the supposed triangle and had met her avowed recently than she had Gallagher. The woman had confided things to Mrs. Stehle which Mrs. Wilson declares have a most important bearing on a motive. She had told Mrs. Stehle of other men who had come into her life at various times, including the man mentioned by Muffett as the "sawtooth complexioned" man with the "slanting, almond eyes."

Mrs. Stehle could not recall the man's name, but said she was positive the woman would have no trouble in remembering it when she is found.

Name Found in Diary.

Mrs. Stehle was the third woman questioned in the state's attorney's office last night. Her name, as well as those of the others, was gleaned from a diary which detectives previously had overlooked among Gallagher's personal effects in his home at 4905 South Michigan avenue. It was a record of Gallagher's social and legal engagements and contained names of a number of women and their telephone numbers.

Mrs. Stehle's name first appeared as "Catherine Hyland." This is explained by the fact that Mrs. Stehle, daughter of John Sweeney, a former north side alderman, was first married to Thomas Hyland, who died about six years ago. After the name was the phone number "Ravenswood 3111" and the address 1029 Argyle street.

Two More Addresses.

There was also a south side address where Mrs. Stehle, then Mrs. Hyland, roomed for a short time after her first husband's death and prior to her marriage in September, 1916, to Harry R. Stehle, 1236 Columbia avenue, an employee of the Chicago Junction railroad.

The name of Mrs. James T. Patterson also appeared in the book. Mrs. Stehle explained she was living with her sister, Mrs. W. D. Lee, now of 318 East Fifty-sixth street, at one time and that Mrs. Patterson was a neighbor. As there was no phone in the Lee apartment, Gallagher on several occasions called her on Mrs. Patterson's phone.

Mrs. Stehle declared she had met Gallagher on only one occasion since her second marriage, and that her husband was with her on that occasion. Prior to her second marriage, however, she said she had gone out with Gallagher at various times for a period of several months. She said he had taken her to dances, socials and club affairs, but denied they ever had been sweethearts.

Muffett, who had been permitted to go home earlier in the evening, also was brought to the state's attorney's office last night and was still being questioned early this morning. It is

LANSING TO URGE BREAK IF MEXICO FLOUTS DEMAND

U. S. Refuses to Bare Next Step to Get Consul Free.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—Both at the state department and the Mexican embassy the statements were authorized tonight that no reply had yet been received from the Carranza government in reply to the note sent last week by Secretary Lansing demanding the immediate release of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, who was arrested on allegations of collusion in his own kidnapping by Mexican bandits.

Although reports were current in Washington that the Mexican embassy had received Carranza's reply and was recording it, the statement was made by Ambassador Bonillas at 11 o'clock that up to that hour no note had been received.

It also was asserted that it was not known whether the reply would be sent through the Mexican embassy here or delivered through the American embassy at Mexico City.

Carranza Gets Ultimatum.

The demand for the release of Jenkins was received in Mexico about midnight last Thursday, and is understood to have been brought promptly to the attention of President Carranza, who had been absent, but who is again in Mexico City. There has been intimations that Carranza's reply would be in Washington not later than tomorrow.

Just what the character of the reply will be is something concerning which the authorities here have no intimation; but if it meets the demand for immediate release of Jenkins the situation between the two countries will be less tense and threatening than it has been for several days.

Believe Mexico Will Refuse.

While officials profess to have no line on the attitude Carranza may assume in his note, there was an intimation in an unofficial but very reliable quarter tonight that Carranza may not comply with the demand for the immediate release of Jenkins, but the burden of his note may be a recital of the "facts" as viewed by Mexican officials, and a statement that the Mexican authorities will try Jenkins in due and orderly course in the Mexican courts.

What was regarded as a hint of Mexico's position was noted in an article published by the Mexican newspaper, Excelsior, a copy of which reached Washington today. The paper stated specifically that Jenkins' second arrest was based upon charges that he actively assisted the rebels.

The "certain sum of money" of which Jenkins is accused of delivering to the rebels consisted of the 300,000 pesos he was compelled to pay as ransom to Federico Cordoba, the rebel whose forces kidnapped him. The collusion is based upon the fact that Jenkins agreed to pay the rebel leader the ransom in order to save his life and gain his liberty.

Lansing to Urge Break.

What the administration will do if Carranza flouts the United States has not been determined. It is known, however, that Secretary Lansing will urge the president to sever diplomatic relations at once and to intervene primarily for the rescue of Jenkins.

In this aggressive action Mr. Lansing has the support of several cabinet members, all of whom are prepared to press on President Wilson adoption of the course proposed.

The administration is mindful of the fact that if the United States intervenes again, whatever the immediate purpose, it will be necessary to stay until Mexico is pacified and the menace to America ended forever.

Angels Believed Alive.

Private advice direct from Mexico City indicated Gen. Felipe Angeles, the Villa chieftain, had not been executed as reported last night from San Antonio, and that powerful efforts were being made to save his life.

The published statement that Angeles had been put to death without trial by court martial, the advice said, were known in the Mexican capital to be untrue.

Cost of Turkish Living Reduces Size of Harem.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 17.—[By the Associated Press.]—Delayed.

The high cost of living is hampering the Turkish households. The sultan has reduced the size of his harem; has also been retrenching in this respect, and notwithstanding the sultan's authorization of four wives to a man, the proportion of unmarried women is said to be increasing as the men are finding more than one wife too expensive to maintain.

BANDIT KILLED IN HOT FIGHT WITH POLICE

Wounds Bluecoat in Battle—City Swept by Holdups.

Theodore Piech, alleged bandit, of 1220 West Forty-ninth place is dead, killed in a gun duel between himself and Detective Sergeant Rowland B. Norton of 6551 Troy street yesterday morning. Norton was wounded in the thigh and is at the German Deaconess hospital.

This killing came as a climax to a wild night of holdups, shootings, and robberies during Saturday night and Sunday morning. The record of these crimes during the twenty-four hours ending at daylight yesterday equals and possibly surpasses all records of the Chicago police department.

Acting on information given by a member of what is said to be an organized gang of stickup men, seven detective sergeants left the stockyards station at 8 o'clock yesterday morning with instructions to surround a house at 1220 West Forty-ninth place, and arrest the inmates.

Surround House of Suspects.

Dividing their forces, two going into the alley, three to the rear of the house, and two to the front, they awaited the signal. The sergeants were William Bush, Malachi Murphy, William Fitzgerald, Jim McDonald, Patrick Birmingham, Bernard Corcoran, and Rowland B. Norton. They had been told that the place they were to enter harbored one of the most dangerous gangs of gunmen in the city.

Corcoran and Norton, as they walked toward the front door, noticed that it opened slightly. A moment later a young man stepped out with a revolver and fired twice. The second shot struck Norton in the groin. Norton pulled his revolver and fired two shots. His assailant dropped.

$1,700 Robbery Starts Trouble.

Early Friday William P. Hillman, cashier for Jacob Rodatz, building contractor, left a loop bank with a bag containing $1,700 in cash, the pay roll of his firm. He stepped into an automobile and was driven to Forty-sixth street and Packers avenue, where three armed youths robbed him and the driver.

The crime was reported to Capt. John Hogan of the Stockyards police. The same afternoon Stanley Kwiatkowski, 18 years old, 4801 South Ada street, was arrested. On questioning he gave the names of several of his associates, among whom were Theodore and Jackie Piech and one Stanley Bruzanski, also known as Stanley Edwards. He gave the home address of the Piech boys as 1220 West Forty-ninth place.

Neither Hillman nor his driver could identify Kwiatkowski as one of the robbers. Rogue's gallery photographs of the two Piech boys and Bruzanski were secured. The driver-identified Theodore Piech as the man who held the gun at his side during the robbery.

It was Theodore Piech who was killed yesterday.

Immediately after the shooting the Stockyards, North Halsted and New City police stations were notified. Fifty policemen, detective sergeants, and riflemen responded and the house was rushed.

Inside were found Mrs. Mary Piech, mother of Theodore; Jackie Piech, 18 years old, and Eddie Piech, 15 years old, brothers of Theodore, and Joe Garbage, 18 years old, who is said to be now under federal indictment with Jackie Piech for theft of a mail sack.

Four Held for Questioning.

All of these were taken to Stockyards station and questioned for several hours by Capt. Hogan. Assistant State's Attorney Eckhart, and numerous detectives. Later Eddie was taken in charge by the juvenile authorities, and Mrs. Piech was sent to detention home No. 3. The others were also held.

John Piech, a butcher, father of Theodore, escaped from the police at the scene of the shooting on a plea of "going for a doctor." As he left he picked up his son's pistol.

"Those coppers are after me and are going to kill me. I don't care whether I live or not, but I'm going to get a life for a life. I'm going to get the ones that sets me; the first one that comes to the house."

dead bandit, as told by his younger brother, Pich, refused to make a statement before death.

WILD NIGHT OF CRIME

Saturday night and Sunday morning constituted a record night of crime. More than thirty autos were stolen, more than thirty holdups reported, two shootings resulted, and Mayor Thompson's car was stolen from the city garage. Over 125 suspects were arrested in connection with the crime orgy.

Besides the mayor's car, the auto thefts included that of H. A. Meyers, 2750 Broadway, Evanston, stolen from in front of 4346 Kenmore avenue, Paul Tyrell, 4101 West Twenty-fourth place, Paul Pappas, 4332 Vincennes avenue, and the taxicab of Harry Friedlander, 2525 Ogden avenue. The mayor's car was found in the morning at Twenty-first and Ruble streets.

The victims of gunmen during the night were Albert Breitschneider, 2918 Fletcher street, and Charles Velkoborsky, 1809 South Racine avenue. Both are still alive in hospitals, but likely to die.

GERMANY GROWS DEFIANT AS U. S. REJECTS TREATY

Expected to Refuse to Surrender Ships as Protocol Demands.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(By Wireless to The Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, Nov. 23.—Herr von Simson, chairman of the German delegation sent here to receive the allies' protocol which contains guarantees for carrying out the unfulfilled armistice terms after the treaty ratifications are exchanged, left Paris for Berlin last night to submit the protocol to the German government.

Ratification Will Be Delayed.

This development gives rise to the belief that the treaty ratifications cannot be exchanged on Monday, Dec. 1, as scheduled, owing to the lack of time. Herr von Simson will not arrive in Berlin before tomorrow night or Tuesday morning, and to return to Paris on Monday week he must leave Berlin on Friday afternoon, thus allowing only two or three days for the German government to discuss the protocol terms.

The German delegation already has announced here its displeasure at the provision that 40,000 tons of lighters, tugs, drydocks, and floating cranes must be handed over to the allies as reparation for the German fleet sunk at Scapa Flow, and it is believed the Berlin government will debate long before accepting this.

Outbreaks Are Predicted.

The workmen's committees at Bremen, Hamburg, Emden, and other ports already have notified the government that serious outbreaks are likely if this tonnage is handed over to the allies, and bitter attacks already have been made by extremists and royalists who oppose surrendering the tonnage despite the insistence of the allies.

The rank and file of the Germans prefer to sacrifice Admiral de Reuter, who was in command when the fleet was sunk, and to let him be tried by an allied court martial.

Disturbing reports are received from German sources that Germany may flatly refuse the protocol with this provision, in and that the allies may be told they must renounce selling further German shipping and tonnage.

Exploiting U. S. Action?

PARIS, Nov. 23.—What is the significance of the departure of Herr von Simson for Berlin? asks the evening edition of La Presse de Paris. "The reasons alleged by the German diplomat are by no means conclusive. Why should it be necessary to consult the national assembly on the terms of the protocol, which have been known since the beginning of the month?"

"It must be, therefore, a maneuver of Germany, wishing to exploit the American senate's hesitation, but such a move is condemned to failure in advance, and the supreme council is about to meet. Furthermore, it must be repeated that the Berlin government is the first whose interests demand prompt application of the treaty of Versailles."

ENTIRE ITALIAN PRESS CONDEMNS ZARA EXPEDITION

D'Annunzio and Admiral Millo Censured for Entry.

ROME, Nov. 22.—[Delayed.]—Disapproval of Capt. D'Annunzio's expedition against Zara is expressed by the entire press of Italy.

Admiral Millo, an Italian officer from the Dalmatian coast, has distributed to the press a statement saying D'Annunzio's act was necessary, because he feared Italy would withdraw its troops from Zara and leave the city at the mercy of the Yugoslavs.

Italian Admiral Censured.

The course pursued by Rear Admiral Enrico Millo, commander of the forces of occupation in Dalmatia, in joining Capt. Gabriele D'Annunzio in his enterprise against Zara is condemned in a semi-official statement issued today. The statement says, in part:

"The government disapproves of the action of Rear Admiral Millo, which exceeds his authority. He will remain at his post pending decision by the government, which will do its utmost to prevent other contemplated expeditions."

Recent searches at Ancona, Turin, and Milan show that some exalted personalities are endeavoring to profit by the situation in Fiume and secure territorial advantages.

The statement says that "evidence is not lacking that other expeditions are being prepared against Sebenico, Spalato, and other Dalmatian towns."

Details of D'Annunzio Trip.

Now that details of Gabriele D'Annunzio's recent exploit are being permitted publication, some graphic accounts of the poet's adventure are coming to light. One narrative by an eyewitness describes the events of the voyage and arrival.

D'Annunzio, he says, at the head of a band of 1,000 men, left from Fiume on Nov. 13 with his little fleet.

At about 8:30 o'clock Friday morning, the narrator relates, as D'Annunzio and his staff stood on the deck of the destroyer Nullo, seeking a first glimpse of Zara, a destroyer approached the Nullo. It was the destroyer Indomito.

Its commander, speaking through a megaphone, said:

"The excellency, Admiral Millo, asks where you are going."

"I, Gabriele D'Annunzio, commander of the city of Fiume, am going to Zara," was the response.

"All right," quickly came the reply. At the same time the sailors on the destroyer Indomito waved their arms and caps, shouting: "Viva Italia! Viva D'Annunzio!"

Load Greeting for "Conqueror."

The news spread in Zara that D'Annunzio was approaching the port. The church bells started ringing, and the population flocked into the streets.

The landing of D'Annunzio and his officers gave rise to a noisy demonstration. The big bankers are reading Hoover's speeches carefully and noting the reaction of the press and public.

DEMAND SENATE MAKE HASTE ON PEACE TREATY

Appeal Is Issued by League Headed by Taft.

New York, Nov. 23.—Settlement of differences over the peace treaty to permit its ratification as soon as possible after the senate reconvenes is urged in a statement issued today by the League to Enforce Peace at the conclusion of a special meeting of the executive committee.

Former President William H. Taft, president of the league, presided. Among others present were Oscar S. Straus and Herbert Hoover. The league's statement follows:

"The defeat of ratification has been received by the country with surprise and indignation. The people want peace. They want peace and they want a league of nations to guard the peace. Whose name it bears, which party brand it wears, they care not at all. They expected ratification before adjournment of the senate."

Peace Not Party Matter.

"The making of peace is no more a party question than was the making of war. The American people, without regard to party, stood behind the war until the day of victory. With like unanimity they now stand behind the treaty."

"The small minority who oppose a league of nations in any form defeat ratification. Shall fifteen senators decide where America shall stand in this world crisis? Eighty senators have shown that they favor the principle of the league of nations. The fate of the treaty rests in their hands. They have the votes. They have the power. Theirs is the responsibility. They must get together."

The failure to ratify the peace treaty has encouraged social unrest both at home and abroad.

Men and women of America, this is your problem. Your interests, your welfare, the honor and the future of your country, are involved. Your will is the supreme command.

League Idea Is American.

"The league of nations gives the promise of a world cooperating for the purposes of peace and protecting itself by concerted action against war and the threat of war. The ideal is American. The men and women who gladly dedicated their sons and their substance to the cause of obtaining peace through the defeat of the German men-

MOSLEM CHURCH HEAD OPENS 'DRY TURKEY' FIGHT

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 15.—[By the Associated Press.]—Delayed. Gratification over the amendment to the United States constitution forbidding the sale of liquor was expressed by Abraham Effendi, Shiek-ul-Islam, spiritual head of the Moslem church, today.

"Drink is the mother of all evil," he said, "and no abstention from it wrought our downfall. I am delighted to observe that America is realizing God's command as spoken to our prophet. It is strange that, after thirteen and a half centuries, a new nation should adopt prohibition, while we, whose prophet commanded it, should again begin an effort to enforce abstinence."

"Our law regards drink as the worst evil because it breeds other evils, whereas other habits may not do this. It is a matter of history that so long as our people did not drink they were of sound morality and order and were also prosperous. Our women do not drink."

"If ever Islam recovers, it will be because prohibition is restored to make men strong, clean, and intellectual. We are now launching a prohibition campaign throughout Islam to make God's wisdom respected."

Leffingwell May Become Secretary of Treasury

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—It seems to be assured that when the senate reconvenes in December, President Wilson will lay before it for confirmation the nomination of Russell Cornell Leffingwell of New York to the secretary of the treasury in succession to Carter Glass of Virginia, who has resigned to accept the appointment of senator from his state.

Mr. Leffingwell is now one of the assistant secretaries of the treasury. There is also reason to believe that Bernard M. Baruch is being urged by the administration to accept the office of secretary of commerce left vacant by the resignation of William C. Redfield of New York.

TREATY FORCED INTO ARENA FOR POLITICAL ISSUE

Candidates in 1920 to Be Decided Upon by Attitude.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.
[United News Staff Correspondent.]
New York, Nov. 23.—Senator Lodge's announcement that he favors putting the treaty of Versailles before the people, and President Wilson's determination to throw the pact into the next presidential election, if necessary, has altered the complexion of the forthcoming campaign.

Senator Harding of Ohio has announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination, although a few months ago he said he would not be a candidate. He has strongly supported the Lodge position.

Will Awake Public Debate.

It is expected the next few weeks will see other candidates, both on the Republican and Democratic sides, compelled to state their position on the treaty and the league.

By throwing the treaty into politics, leaders of both sides believe there will be a marked awakening of the American people to the issues. The people have been more interested in industrial questions, the rising cost of living, beer, and liquor.

The big question is how far Republicans will follow Lodge in demanding that his program be ratified, or the treaty not ratified at all, and how far the Democrats will follow the president in demanding that the treaty be ratified in accordance with the Wilson formula.

Financiers Favor Hoover.

Financial interests in the country have been outspoken in their advocacy of the ratification of the pact. Their stake in Europe is tremendous and they believe that, in the league of nations, there is greater assurance of future stability among European nations than would come if America returned to her former isolation.

As a result, there is a growing sentiment for Herbert Hoover along financial row. The big bankers are reading Hoover's speeches carefully and noting the reaction of the press and public.

Thus far they have approved what he had to say. Hoover is aligned with no party.

Mr. Hoover is strong for ratification of the peace treaty and the league of nations.

WAR WORKER TO DIRECT CHURCH REORGANIZATION HERE

Miss Edna Geister, whom many a soldier boy and sailor remembers for the games she directed in camps and recreation centers of the middle west, left the National War council of the Y. W. C. A. to become recreational director of the inter-church council of Chicago. She will begin her work Dec. 1 and will supervise classes in games and recreation in various parts of the city, taking up the work first of the Y. W. C. A. and later spreading to other churches with which the council is affiliated.

Miss Geister left Columbia university in April, 1917, to take up recreational work with the Y. W. C. A. war council. She organized "good times" movements for war workers and service men in Charleston, S. C. Camp Meade, Great Lakes Naval Training station, and Fort Sheridan.

In connection with her new work she will carry on recreational work in various Chicago industrial institutions and with clubs.

FRENCH POLITICS MARKS TIME; UP TO CLEMENCEAU

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The government statemakers have been actively at work during the last few days, despite the fact that they are in complete ignorance as to whether M. Clemenceau desires to remain as premier or whether, under pressure from his friends, he will accept the candidacy for the presidency of the republic.

The earliest declaration favored Alexandre Millerand as head of the republic coalition to succeed M. Clemenceau as premier. But toward the end of the week M. Millerand was put forward as a candidate for the presidency, and Senator Charles Jonnart, former governor of Algeria, succeeded him on the slate for the membership.

It has been suggested that M. Clemenceau will be unable to make a final decision until the new chamber is organized and the majority gives an indication of what it wants. The general impression is that it will want Clemenceau to accept the presidency of the republic and that the majority will be composed of the groups that were affiliated in the recent elections under the leadership of M. Millerand, making Millerand the logical choice for head of the new government.

25 DANCERS DIE IN LOUISIANA FIRE

Ville Platte, La., Nov. 23.—Twenty-five persons, most of them women and girls, lost their lives here last night in a fire which quickly destroyed a frame building in which 300 of the village folk were making merry at a dance. Fifteen others were seriously hurt, and search of the ruins was expected to add to the list of the dead.

Ten of the dancers were crushed to death and others were crushed in a wild stampede to reach the street down a narrow, frail stairway, while the flames were sweeping rapidly from the lower floor. More than a score of others, tucked safely away in a little nursery on the same floor with the main hall, were rescued by mothers.

presumed he was brought there to see if he could identify any of the women questioned as the brunette he saw with Gallagher in Evanston.

The First Arrival.

The first woman to arrive was of middle age, rather stout. She wore an expensive mink coat which reached to her ankles. She had been located by policemen from the Fifth street station. For more than an hour she was questioned, then permitted to leave the Criminal Court building. George T. Kenney, secretary to Mr. Hoynes, declared Gallagher's relations with her had been purely of a business nature. He did not reveal her name. The second woman was a tall, slender brunette, about 35 years of age. She wore a long blue cloak trimmed with fur and hurried past the reporters waiting in an anteroom. An hour was occupied by Mr. Wilson in her exam-

According to Walter A. Bermingham, 1238 Columbia avenue, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Stehle, her acquaintance with Gallagher was of about two months' duration prior to September, 1918.

diary. Considerable trouble was found in locating them, as the notations in some cases were made several years ago and the women had moved to new addresses. One or two are believed to have left Chicago.

Mr. Wilson had spent most of the afternoon questioning Muffett and his wife. He checked up every possible angle of the story told by Muffett regarding the mysterious brunette and Gallagher's alleged rival for her affections. Muffett explained he was not introduced to the woman at the time he saw Gallagher meet her because he had met "Rabbi" Hirsch Weinstein, an old client, at the same time and was engaged in conversation with him while Gallagher talked to the woman.

Sexton Recalls Meeting.

Detectives located Weinstein at his home at 2339 Taylor street. Weinstein is not a rabbi, but a sexton of a west side synagogue which Muffett attends. Weinstein was brought to the state's attorney's office and recalled the meeting two years ago in Evanston. He said he was able to fix the time because his son, Jacob, was ill in St. Elizabeth's hospital, Evanston, with scarlet fever, and he was returning from that institution when he saw Muffett. He was not sure whether he had talked to Muffett on that occasion, but says he remarked to the lawyer about three weeks later at the synagogue that he had seen him in Evanston.

Weinstein says he did not notice a woman or Gallagher at the time.

Muffett was questioned as to his movements on the night of the murder. He declared he had gone to a tailor shop in Halsted street, but had returned to his home at 1518 South Turner avenue early in the evening. He and his wife, he said, read a while and went to bed about 9:30 o'clock, just about the time Gallagher was killed.

Wife Supports Story.

Mrs. Muffett corroborated her husband's statement, with the exception she did not mention the visit to the tailor shop. She said her husband had remained home all evening. When this was mentioned, however, she recalled he had gone out for a short time. When the examination was completed Muffett went home, only to be recalled. Mr. Wilson also checked up on the stories told by witnesses of the shooting. All were reexamined and all finally agreed as to the general description of the man seen fleeing from the scene. They also agreed that only one man was implicated, instead of two, as several at first had declared.

Doubt Escape in Auto.

The police are wondering why the two men whom Miss Margaret Rupp saw bending over Gallagher's body have not come forward to tell their stories.

The story of the slayer's escape in an automobile is discredited. It is believed witnesses were confused by seeing two men get out of a racing car and run to Gallagher's side at the same time the murderer was seen dashing across the boulevard.

Trail Clues to Slayer.

The police were kept busy running down clues given anonymously over the telephone by persons who believed they had seen a man answering the description of Gallagher's slayer. Detective Sergeant Edward McGuire received information that two men, both answering the description, were in the habit of loitering about the corner near which the lawyer was killed. The informant gave the name of one of these as "Harry Broad."

As a result of another anonymous message Detective Sergeant Thomas Magner arrested John McGregory, 2639 Cottage Grove avenue. After questioning him, the police were convinced he knows nothing of the murder, but he is being held for examination at the psychopathic hospital.

Funeral services for Attorney Gallagher will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at Our Lady of Sorrows church. Burial will be at Mount Carmel cemetery.

LION, FULL FED, READY TO SHARE PERSIAN LAMB?

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—The British government, it was learned here today, has indicated to the United States its willingness in principle to modify the terms of the Anglo-Persian treaty, against which the state department had insistently raised objections.

To what extent the treaty, concluded secretly, conferring upon Britain control of the Persian army and finances, retaining Britons as the sole foreign advisers, will be modified is not known. The British government, however, it is believed, will permit the Persian government to select some advisers from the United States, and will permit the United States to participate in loans to Persia.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
DUBLIN, Nov. 23.—Ireland is terrified. It is seething with crime. Let me tell you one thing: It is no longer safe to go about in the king's uniform.The speaker is Col. William Taylor, a one time president of the College of surgeons.Col. Taylor's view is quoted first because it expresses the chief complaint against the Sinn Fein or volunteer organization.The commanders of the army of occupation and of the metropolitan police and their subordinate officers declare it is a shame "to put a constable in the street." They contend that Sinn Fein is not disavowing crimes against the army and police.

The Sinn Fein Reply.

Some Sinn Fein leaders declare simply that to understand the causes of murder, and sudden death in Ireland one must first accept the republican contention that Ireland has declared war and is in a state of war with England. In reply to Secretary Southworth's statement on crime in his house of commons the Sinn Fein issues an enormous list of police and military crime against the political leaders and private citizens of Ireland.The police in Dublin now patrol their beats in twos and threes. The soldiers, against whom resentment is not so deep because Sinn Fein hopes to win over in the next rebellion, go about in groups. But the king's uniform, as Col. Taylor said, invites trouble.Raiding is the chief avocation of both sides.

Sinn Fein Masked.

The Sinn Fein, or volunteers, usually go masked. This says the military is nearly the Irish love for pageantry and remembrance exhibiting itself. The sides say it is to protect them from capture and British jails. The consultancy does its raiding frequently by day and only in safe groups. They have no help from the countryside. In fact, opinion is so unanimous against them that there have been cases where every grown up person in a village knew the name of a man who shot a constable and not one would testify.
Despite all this crime a stranger in Ireland goes about freely and safely.

OPPOSE SENDING COAL TO CANADA TILL MINES OPEN

Rail Chiefs to Urge Policy of America First in Shortage.

"Stop sending coal to Canada until American mines resume production." This will be the plea Director General of Railroads William B. Hines will receive today from the various regional railroad directors and business organizations, it became known yesterday.

Mr. Hines, after leaving Chicago Wednesday, restricted all coal shipments "except to the western states and Canada," and, according to railroad officials, eastern coal shipments since have been divided about evenly between the western states and the Dominion. Coal also has been released to foreign ships.

East Ships to Canada.
T. W. Proctor, chairman of the northwest regional coal committee, which has jurisdiction over Chicago, declared that whatever coal was going into Canada was being shipped over eastern railroads.

"We have not released a pound of coal to Canada," he said. "If any has been released it is going in over the Eastern lines. As to releases to foreign ships we are allowing them only enough to carry them to their nearest home port, or coaling station."

Mr. Proctor admitted that he proposed recommendations for "more rigid conservation of the coal reserve stored at the head of the lakes."

Other administration officials refused to comment on the shipments to Canada beyond pointing out that Mr. Hines' order restricting exports had exempted Canada, and declaring they would today urge "more rigid restrictions."

John M. Glenn of the Manufacturers' association declared he believed no coal should be released to Canada when there was a shortage and suspension of production in this country. "I do not know the reasons the government may have," he said, "and of course not knowing them would not criticize, but it seems to me we should take care of our own people first."

Day's Developments.

Other developments were:
The announcement by the regional coal committee that Mayor Thompson would be asked today to order curtailment of the use of coal in public buildings.

The shutting off, by the Sanitary District of enough street lights to reduce consumption of 2,500 kilowatts per hour. This, it was explained, was done to relieve the district's steam plant at Thirty-ninth street from all but indispensable work.

The cutting off of heat in all surface and "L" cars. This will save about 800 tons a day.

The announcement by Dr. F. C. Honnold of the operators' association that the wage increase proposed by Secretary of Labor Wilson was unsatisfactory to the operators and brought a settlement no nearer.

The statement by John M. Glenn that manufacturing would be practically crippled within the next few days unless production was resumed.

The injection of the prohibition fight into the strike.

Miners Seek Passports.
Several hundred alien miners, it was learned, have applied for passports. They say they are leaving because of prohibition.

Dr. Honnold declared the operators were "willing to obey any order of the government," but added:

"We do not accept Secretary Wilson's plan as that of the government."

PROPOSED MINE WAGES 'LOADED WITH DYNAMITE'

Wilson Plan Grants Double the Raise of Other Crafts.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.
Secretary of Labor Wilson has concluded, after investigating three mining towns, that the cost of living has increased 79.8 per cent since December, 1914. He also has decided that the wages of miners should be increased accordingly.

Application of his proposed wage schedule to Illinois shows that he desires to boost the pay of shiftmen—those who work by the day—much more than 79.8 per cent.

How the Wages Compare.
A comparison of the wages these men received on March 31, 1914, and what they were getting when they went on strike, with Mr. Wilson's proposed schedule, is shown in the following tabulation, together with the percentage of increase:

Job	Mar. 31, 1914	Oct. 31, 1914	Prop. over 1914	Per cent
Mine examiner	$3.377	$5.54	$7.12	110
"Case"	3.34	5.00	6.58	131
Pipeman	2.778	4.91	6.49	133
Truckman helper	2.62	4.75	6.33	141
"Other" labor	2.22	4.85	6.33	137
Boiler trapper	1.25	3.65	4.23	239

*Also scale of driver, trip rider, track layer and timber man.

The smallest percentage of increase surpasses what union labor leaders have been able to gain for the skilled crafts of Chicago.

The machinists, bricklayers, holsters, engineers, painters, plasterers, structural iron workers, sheet metal workers, iron molders, and plumbers have not obtained 110 per cent increase in the same period. They have not received one-half of 110 per cent increase since 1912.

If wages of skilled workers before the war bore equitable relationship to one another, they should have the same percentage of increase because of the cost of living. If the H. C. L. in the mining towns has gone as far upward as in Chicago. At least that is the way a local union man will look at it. Therefore the importance of the wage scale for the miners cannot easily be overlooked.

Plan Overlooks Bound.
But Secretary Wilson worked out his program with the pick miner as the basis. He intended to raise him $1.81 per cent. His idea was to give a raise of 79.8 per cent over December, 1914. But in more than half of the coal mines in Illinois his plan grants a raise of from $2 to $7 per cent.

This coal comes from Franklin, Williamson, Sangamon, Macoupin, St. Louis and Vermilion counties. With the exception of a few mines immediately around Springfield, all coal from these counties will yield an increase of 32 per cent or more.

All of the mines of Franklin, Williamson, Sangamon and part of those in Macoupin will give a raise of 37 per cent over 1914, if the Wilson plan is adopted.

It is impossible to summarize the application of the Wilson miners' rate to the entire state without detailed and elaborate reckoning, but half a dozen spots are shown in the table below. It gives the miner's rate per ton on March 31, 1914, and on the day he went on strike as compared with Wilson's proposed rate, together with the percentage of increase during the war period.

How Wilson Plan Works.
The tabulation follows:

City or county	Mar. 31, 1914	Oct. 31, 1914	Wilson over 1914	Per cent
Danville	$0.61	$0.84	$1.11	82
Franklin Co.	.57	.80	1.07	87
Franklin Co.	.57	.80	1.07	87
Streator	.70	.93	1.20	71
Marionville	1.12	1.44	1.71	89
Kewanee	.77	1.00	1.27	63

If a miner can get 71 to 87 per cent increase, is it reasonable to expect the Chicago bricklayer will be satisfied with less than 43 per cent, the machinist with 46 per cent, the plasterer with 48 per cent, the structural iron worker with 51 per cent, and the plumber with 45 per cent?

HAMBURG BEGINS TO BUSTLE AGAIN AS IN OLD DAYS

BY PARKER BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
HAMBURG, Nov. 22.—Hamburg is once more beginning to look like a real seaport.

The tonnage is not yet anything like the pre-war figures, but the ship interests are much encouraged by the slow building up process that has been under way for the last two months. In addition to the New York freighters of the Hamburg-American, the vessels of the small line now are running to the Mediterranean, touching at Spanish and Italian ports. Before long there will be a similar service to Mexico and the West Indies and possibly to the Levant-Greek, Turkish, Bulgarian, and south Russian ports.

SERG. WETMORE DENIES GUILT IN SWISS FRAUD

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Wireless to The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Nov. 23.—Louis Wetmore, former sergeant A. E. F., charged with conspiring to permit other persons to defraud the United States government out of funds in connection with army contracts let in Switzerland, has issued a statement from his cell at the military prison in Rue Sainte Anne denying certain charges made against him.

Wetmore is the son of a former physician for J. Pierpont Morgan, and is divorced from Eugenia Marko, daughter of a New York Supreme court justice.

Wetmore asserts he saved the United States government 9,000,000 francs in letting a contract for aeroplane compasses by obtaining the instruments for 9 francs instead of 16 francs apiece.

Mr. Wilkerson was commissioned by Gov. St. Louis, whose resignation accepted. The commission will have no hastening or retarding of the decision on the fare question, which will be announced tomorrow.

In order to expedite the commission held a meeting of the greater part of the day. Chairman Wilkerson, Commissioner Walter A. not been present at the meeting, carefully went over the exhibits submitted, when the evening session was held. The drafting of the decision will be reached some time before it is made.

"We cannot force it to do so," said the decision. The decision reached. We may reach tomorrow and perhaps day."

The decision is expected to be reached at 6:30 cents. Springfield indicated a decision to 6 cents, with fifteen tickets for a compromise not reached Saturday was the tickets for $1, or 6¢, or alternative for a 7¢.

WILKERSON GETS CHAIRMANSHIP OF UTILITIES BOARD

Takes Place of Dempcy, Who Has Been Ill for Many Weeks.

James H. Wilkerson, former United States district attorney, was appointed chairman of the Illinois public utilities commission by Gov. Lowden yesterday to succeed Thomas E. Dempcy of East St. Louis, whose resignation the governor accepted. The change in personnel will have no effect on either hastening or retarding the commission's decision on the 7 cent street car fare question, which, it is expected, will be announced this evening or tomorrow.

Mr. Dempcy, former assistant attorney general of Illinois, has been ill at his home from pneumonia for some time and has taken no active part in the commission's affairs for several weeks. He has sufficiently recovered to be about the house, but will not be able to resume his duties for some weeks.

Filled Sterling's Place. Mr. Wilkerson was appointed to the commission by Gov. Lowden to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Fred E. Sterling of Rockford when the latter was elected state treasurer.

In order to expedite its decision, the commission held a conference during the greater part of the afternoon yesterday. Chairman Wilkerson and Commissioner Walter A. Shaw, who has not been present at most of the hearings, carefully went through a number of exhibits submitted last Friday night, when the evidence, testimony, and arguments of the city, state, and surface lines were completed. The commission will meet again this morning to go over the docket and a decision may be reached this afternoon. The drafting of the decision may take some time before it is announced.

Can't Make Forecast. "We cannot forecast even if we wished to do so," said Mr. Wilkerson, "because the decision has not been reached. We may reach a conclusion tomorrow and perhaps not until Tuesday."

The decision is expected to fix the fare at 6 1/2 cents. A report from Springfield indicated it might be reduced to 6 cents, with a sale of seven tickets for a dollar, but the compromise most favorably discussed on Saturday was the sale of sixteen tickets for $1, or 6 1/4 cents a ride, as an alternative for a 7 cent cash fare.

COL. JUNKIN TO TELL DRINK TALE TO CLYNE TODAY

Col. Francis T. A. Junkin, into whose mind cabinet the unwhispered voice of John Barleycorn found its way, will tell on United States District Attorney Charles F. Clyne at the latter's office today.

Mr. Clyne said he wasn't positive as to the time Col. Junkin fell from these charges. How about it? "I have heard nothing in that regard. The law will take its course."

"Do you regard the charge against him seriously?" Mr. Clyne was asked. "Certainly; it charges violation of a federal law. Of course some people may not regard it as serious."

"Do you?" "I didn't ask him in here to let him go."

"It's reported the administration is anxious to have Col. Junkin relieved from these charges. How about it?" "I have heard nothing in that regard. The law will take its course."

INTERCHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT ISSUES PRAYER OF THANKS

BY THE REV. F. L. GRATIOT

THE interchurch world movement of North America has issued the following "Thanksgiving Prayer" for use in all the churches associated with the movement:

"Almighty God, Who in earlier days led our fathers forth into a large inheritance, give us grace, we humbly beseech Thee to pass through these days of unrest and turmoil in confidence and courage that what has been so well begun will come to rich completion."

"Bless our land with the fruits of honest toil. Save us from the discord which misunderstanding brings. Keep our feet in the path of righteousness. Teach us to love liberty and justice and to practice them to the upbuilding of the entire world as well as our own native land. Fashion into one people the multitudes brought hither out of many countries and make them true Americans."

"Give us grateful hearts for the abundant harvests of the year. In the time of our prosperity, let our self-confidence with the recollection that 'every good and every perfect gift is from above.' Let no anxiety rob us of the consciousness of Thine abiding love. In the day of trouble suffer not our trust in Thee to fail. Be patient with us when our purposes break down or our endeavors seem of no avail."

"Go with us into Thanksgiving day. Teach us to give thanks for all the blessings of the time, to dread nothing but the loss of Thee and to perceive the sun of Thine enduring love forever shining behind every cloud."

"Bless us all at the Thanksgiving board. Be with those who cannot be with us as well as those who can. Make us, wherever we may be, one in that unity of hope and faith and love which neither time nor distance can destroy. And send us forth into the future with Thanksgiving faces and Thanksgiving hearts—eager to labor, strong to endure, and useful to the land we love. Amen."

NEW OCEAN ALL READY TO ROLL AT BOARD WALK

Mrs. John Alden Carpenter's painted ocean is finished to the last wave and all ready to roll up under the Atlantic City board walk at the Coliseum on Dec. 6, when the bazaar for the benefit of the Passavant Memorial hospital building fund is opened.

The ocean and all other decorations have been designed by Mrs. Carpenter, who evolved the idea of bringing the board walk to Chicago, and are being executed by Thomas G. Moses.

The entire east wall of the Coliseum will be a painted Atlantic ocean, with painted ships and waves, and a real sandy beach will extend between it and the raised board walk on the west side.

There are thirty-two concessions, including push chairs brought from Atlantic City, which will be pushed about by well known men with blacked faces. The chairs are in charge of Howard Gillette, and the men, whose identity will be a matter of guessing, due to their disguises, are Harry Best, Newton Perry, John Winterbottom, Loring Coleman, Paul Gardner, Morse Ely, Watson Armour, Austin Niblack, Morris Johnston, Eames MacVeagh, and John A. Stevenson.

INTERVENTION IN MEXICO.

We are threatening intervention again in Mexico. The government policy is probably no nearer effective settlement of Mexican disorders now than it has been in the past, but when the Mexicans crowd their elbows into American ribs a bit harder than ordinary, there are at least threats to do something about it. Threats, backed by no purpose to do anything, merely aggravate the conditions.

We have waited watchfully long enough to see exactly what comes of the plan allowing Mexico to develop a decent and strong government from within. Mexico is not doing it. It has been our opinion that Mexico will have to be given order from without. Mexican developments confirm that opinion.

Order can be brought about by intervention, if it is not intervention merely to chase some robbers or to take a city for a short while. If it is intervention to clean up thoroughly, Mexico can get peace and decent government.

President Wilson's policy is supposed to be for the 85 per cent of Mexicans thought to be law abiding. If they are law abiding, they are the greatest sufferers from this policy. It does not protect them. It protects the 15 per cent of Mexicans who want disorder and thrive on it.

Intervention would give the 85 per cent a chance. It will not do any good unless it is thorough and is intended to put Mexico on its feet and keep it there. The military undertaking should not be difficult. In our putting around in Mexico we have fought the Mexicans as they prefer to fight, in skirmishes with small arms in raids over great expanses of territory.

A campaign undertaken in earnest for permanent results would be aimed at large strategic centers, undertaken by forces equipped with modern weapons and material. It would employ airplanes and sneeze gas and bring the modern equipment into use. The objectives could be won quickly and even humanely.

With the objectives obtained the pacification of the country would not be the difficult task Americans have imagined. We believe that it could and would be carried out by Mexicans themselves. We employed Apache scouts in Indian wars and Filipino scouts in suppressing outlaws in the Philippines. An organization of Mexican rurales could be formed to chase bandits into the mountains and deserts and to clean up the country.

If the 85 per cent of Mexicans want peace, and security, and protection in their farming, cattle raising, and industries they could get it all by their own efforts if they had support from strategic towns.

The United States could organize, clothe, arm, feed, and pay a body of Mexicans who for clothes, food, and pay would be willing to pacify their country and put it in order and keep it in order. That would be giving Mexico a chance to work out its own salvation. It has no chance now because it does not get a government which can and will support the law abiding Mexicans in their desire to get the benefits of peace.

Mexico could be civilized and its waste places returned to production if the United States would intervene with the purpose of reclaiming Mexico. A few raids will not do this. Real intervention would.

GRAND OPERA AND THE T. B. M.

Reginald De Koven, who has composed forty-three operas of the comedy order, announces that the banality of musical comedy is a mode has driven him to grand opera. He bewails the disappearance of the light or comic opera, once so popular, with its intelligible plot, its witty lines, and real musical merit.

The descent from the height obtained by Gilbert and Sullivan and by the light operas of the romantic period, measured by current musical success, is enough to put any composer in a mood for tragedy.

But isn't there a gleam of light in this dark refuge—at least for the American opera going public? Grand opera, as most of us know it in America, is a social function or an acquired taste. It is said we do not like it better because we do not know what it is all about. At best we know the general outline of the plot and we get what we can out of it as opera singers as a class were as efficient in pantomime as the movie actors, we should get more of the drama, but even as it is we manage to follow proceedings fairly well. It is not our inability to understand the words that depresses us. We've tried opera in English without finding our enthusiasm greatly stimulated. The trouble lies elsewhere. It is not, after all, that we don't know the plot, but that we do know it.

We don't enjoy the typical grand opera plot. It depresses our genial American nature. Murder or adultery, with tragic consequences, poison and torture, the knell, the maddock and the shroud—what are these to oppose upon the pleasant repetition of our pleasant after dinner hours? A luxurious tear or two, yes, but give us the rainbow after the storm. Tack a happy ending on our grand opera and, we predict, the box office will smile.

Now, if our refugees from the comic opera stage, like Mr. De Koven, will dare to lighten the gloom of the grand opera plot, will contrive that dangers shall be turned and poisons shall turn out to be sleeping potions, that Romeo shall be less hasty, and that the curtain falls upon parental blessings and the wedding march, then we shall warm to grand opera as never before.

Mr. De Koven's American instinct seems to be guiding him this way, for he has taken Rip Van Winkle as a theme. Nothing worse than pathos in this. Mr. Carpenter, Mr. Victor Herbert, Mr. Berlin, Mr. H. B. Smith, Mr. Cohan might help him take the gore and gloom out of grand opera.

FIFTY-ONE DAYS FOR KILLING.

Mrs. Emma D. Simpson, who shot her husband in court last April, was adjudged insane by a jury Sept. 26 and was thereafter sent to the Elgin state hospital for the insane. On Friday she was adjudged sane by a jury of experts and released. "The Elgin city court was packed with a sympathetic crowd," says the report.

She was fifty-one days at the institution. Her remark on regaining her liberty is significant. "I did not do the right thing—absolutely not," she said. "I could not have done such a thing had I been in my right mind. But until the last hour of my life I'll believe my husband wanted to kill me and marry a bad woman."

After the shooting she buoyantly said to THE TRIBUNE staff photographer, "When I go to court for this, I will need no lawyer. I will need no attorney; the new unwritten law, which does not permit a married man to love another woman, will be my defense. I will tell my whole story to the jury and they will free me."

THE TRIBUNE, in comment on this breezy announcement, said, "They probably will. What is law, what is a human life to the sloppy sentimentality of the juries which sit in these cases?"

Mrs. Simpson's optimism and her prediction have been essentially justified. She did not try her own case. The unwritten law she relied upon was not formally pleaded. But the conventional plea of temporary insanity was, and there were learned experts to support it. The jury did not set her free. It compromised by setting her on the road to freedom. She was solemnly adjudged insane and sent for treatment.

Foreseeing the outcome, THE TRIBUNE at the time of the trial said:

"Pity is at work for Mrs. Simpson, but we hear of little for the husband she slew in a public courtroom. She is said to be nervous. Nervous women should not carry firearms. Mrs. Simpson may be demoted; if so, she should be placed in an asylum for life; not only until she makes a surprising recovery."

The recovery is made, but it is not surprising. This tragedy, beginning with the slaying of a human being by an infuriated woman, proceeding through the elaborate drama of the American criminal trial, and ending with the solemn farce at Elgin, develops as inevitably as an Ibsen play. Sentimentality is lawless. The disease in America is endemic. We need some drastic moral therapy.

MAKING WAR INEVITABLE.

The French say that unless the United States assumes unlimited responsibility in the league of nations and in the alliance with France, French safety depends upon occupation of the bank of the Rhine.

If the intent were to make European conditions much worse twenty years from now than they have been for a hundred years, it could be accomplished by giving the French the territory and people up to the Rhine. That would be the making of another war. It is an infallible system. In the later war the French might hold the territory, but they certainly would have to fight for it.

There may be the making of a war in the Saar basin. There certainly would be one in the Rhine valley. It would be a safer frontier to defend. It would be one that certainly would have to be defended.

FOR A BUDGET THAT BUDGETS.

Where only a short time ago there was but one side to the budget question—the general agreement that we should have a national budget—there are two. One of these insists that the budget should budget; the other that well begun is half done.

The latter partisans see much advantage in the bill presented by Representative Good as chairman of the committee. The former allege that this bill does nothing more than transfer a present clerical operation from the secretary of the treasury to a director of the budget in the president's office.

Under the present arrangement all bureau make their estimates for the ensuing year and turn them over to their several department heads. The department heads submit the departmental totals to the secretary of the treasury. This general estimate then is handed to congress. Obviously the secretary of the treasury is an administration official and therefore submissive to the president. The Good bill is charged with doing nothing more than to shift this general estimate from the treasury to a budget director; a difference only in the manner of handling.

Those who demand a 100 per cent budget allege that much of our financial waste grows not so much out of the inefficiency of bureau and department heads as out of the habit of congress to permit fourteen or fifteen committees to enjoy the privilege of recommending appropriations. They want the budget bill to curb the departments, but they also want it to curb useless river and harbor bills and useless postoffice bills and all the other expenditures so eagerly urged in the multiplicity of committees.

Those in favor of the Good bill think it ought to be passed as a fair start toward national budget making. Those who object believe that pork barreling will go on as before unless the appropriating power is restricted to one committee. They do not object to a dozen subcommittees, but think that in the last analysis one organization should exercise revisionary authority. Of course this would hamper log rolling, but it would save money for the people.

It would not be fair to say the Good bill is utterly inadequate. It ought to serve well its limited purpose. But there ought not to be any objection to the addition of clauses calculated to make it comprehensive. At least if such a measure is defeated there might be a fair line on the log rollers.

THE suppression of "Madelaine" by the Comstock reminds us that this sort of literary criticism is the only sort that sells books. Considering its value as a stock mover, it is surprising how much objection is made to it by authors and publishers.

From these examples it appears that the height at which cumulus clouds will form over fires depends largely on the dryness of the hot air ascending from the fire, and that, therefore, the height of the cloud base is generally greater over burning buildings than the height of the potential base if there were no burning. WALES is impressed by the fact that the line between Canada and the United States is a boundary maintained only by mutual confidence and good will. Sir: Quarter of a century ago, in Dad's bit of a cottage in Kansas, I used to lie on the floor before the base burner with a copy of Montgomery Ward's catalog, and I used to dream of the home I fondly hoped to establish when I became old enough to marry Ella Wheeler Wilcox, whose verses had got me. But when somebody busted up my romance by breaking the news that Mrs. Wilcox not only was married, but was old enough to be my mother.

How to Keep Well.

By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

OPINION AND FACTS DIFFER.

THE following conversation between a colored driver and his assistant was overheard while riding in a two-mule wagon in Mississippi: "Driver—'I want' much sick when I had dat grip last year, but I sho' ain't been no grip since.' Tey tells me you never do get over it.'"

Helper—"It's jes' the same way wid me. Since I got well it fust one thing and then another."

This teaching is entirely different from that given by Dr. Freeman of Columbus, Dr. Peters of Cincinnati, Dr. Armstrong of Birmingham, Dr. Dublin before the epidemic ended, and Dr. Fennell, and Dr. Fennell of Buffalo in his bulletin.

They say that influenza left very few after effects, considering the violence of the disease. They are entirely wrong. A person with advanced consumption got the disease he died rather promptly as a rule.

If he recovered from the grip he generally had little after effect of the disease. Statistics show that the tuberculosis death rate was high during the epidemic of 1918, but that since then it has been low. The tuberculosis death rate was not high for several years after the epidemic of 1918.

There has been a slight increase in heart disease and in obscure mild inflammations of the lungs, but the increase is inconsiderable. All the speakers agreed that the general health had been good since the epidemic ended, and all said they did not expect any great increase in organic disease to follow in the wake of the epidemic.

At Birmingham they had carefully examined 800 people who had been examined before they had influenza. This was an exceptional opportunity to discover just what organic diseases were going on since the epidemic ended. They did not find much evidence that influenza damaged the organs. In the main it kills or it permits complete recovery.

The influenza of the early days was a very violent disease. We expect every individual passing through a violent disease to be organically injured, even though he recover from the acute attack. Such is the case with influenza, scarlet fever, and other infections. Of 800 people recently recovered from diphtheria were carefully examined, the proportion having organic defects would be larger than was the case with the influenza convalescents referred to. We conclude that the colored teamster and his friend were wrong.

TOKYO, Nov. 20.—[By the Associated Press.]—Delayed—The opinion is growing in Japanese army circles that the retreat of Admiral Kolchak and the increasing ascendancy of the Bolsheviks in Siberia are so menacing that Japan cannot remain indifferent, the Jiji Shimpo says.

Therefore Japan adds the newspaper may make a new proposal to the powers regarding the Siberian problem and likewise strengthen the Japanese forces in Siberia.

VLADIVOSTOK, Nov. 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—Delayed—General Panin, in a proclamation dealing with the recent attempted revolution here, said:

"Congratulations to land and naval forces and deepest gratitude to our allies for the services they have rendered. In the name of the government I thank the allied troops who protected the property and the dignity of the Russian state."

The official news agency also has issued a note of thanks to "the allies, and particularly the Japanese, for services rendered to the Russian cause." The note added "Admiral Fedorovitch states the Japanese warship Hizen aided our flotilla by illuminating the station with searchlights."

In reply Admiral Fedorovitch denies the statement. The Japanese naval vessel conformed to its attitude of strict neutrality, he declared.

Not a "Red" Movement.
Gen. Rudolph Galda, Czechoslovak commander and leader of the revolutionary forces, was interviewed today as he lay in bed suffering from a wound incurred during the fighting, and guarded by Czechoslovak soldiers.

"The revolutionary movement was purely of the people," he said, "its upper classes, and its leaders including members of the tsar's duma, three figures in the Keresky government, and many young Russian officers. That it was not Bolshevik. Its records and its leaders' program, outlined to the people, is all the proof that is necessary."

"I believe we would have won had not Japanese troops prevented our sending out raiding parties from the railway station. These parties were turned back, placing us in a trap."

Gen. Galda will be deported soon to Czechoslovakia, but he announced, he will continue to work for the Russian cause. He bitterly arraigned the policy and activities of the allies in Russia.

JAPAN ACCEPTS AMERICAN NOTE AS END OF MIXUP

Friendly Spirit Shown by Aid to Yanks,
They Claim.

TOKYO, Nov. 20.—[By the Associated Press.]—Delayed—The American government has replied to Japan's recent answer to the American note concerning cooperation as regards the operation of the trans-Siberian railway.

The American reply notes with satisfaction Japan's willingness to cooperate, but points out the futility of bringing forward concrete instances of any lack of cooperation in the past.

The copulatory nature of the American reply is such as to give the impression here that a further exchange of notes will be unnecessary and that the incident is considered closed.

It is pointed out in high quarters here that the recent friendly intervention by Japanese troops at Chita, when Gen. Semenov tried to seize a portion of the rifles the Americans were forwarding to Admiral Kolchak, is evidence of Japanese determination to cooperate with the Americans.

Four Effect of Shantung.
The adoption of the Shantung reservation by the United States senate caused some apprehension here as to how, if it were embodied in the German peace treaty, it would affect the Chinese situation. The foreign office has declined to comment on the question. It has reiterated, however, its intention to endeavor to open negotiations with China on the Shantung question as soon as the general ratification of the treaty is announced in Paris.

Representative Japanese are expressing the fear that the recurring criticism of "everything Japan does," as they put it, is likely to create the impression that there is some basis for the idea of deliberate unfriendliness. They say that any economic advantages which Japan obtains in Shantung are duplicated by other countries in other parts of China.

Ishih Regrets Attacks.
At a dinner given in honor of Viscount Ishih, former ambassador to the United States, by the Japan society and attended by a representative company, including American Ambassador Morris, Viscount Ishih said that he had consistently endeavored to explain to his countrymen something of their ignorance regarding America and Americans.

While he deplored the "indiscreet utterances" of some American newspapers and some Americans concerning Japan, he had warned the Japanese, especially the press, of the mischievous effects which were likely to grow out of hasty, inconsiderate criticisms of the United States, and especially of its president.

The Japanese, he declared, deprecated nothing more strongly than the allegation that they had not incorporated some guarantee in the league of nations covenant against racial discrimination. He believed that the omission of the just proposition made by Japan would affect the prestige of the league, but he was confident it would prevail ultimately.

Fears Racial Hatred.

UNIONS' BATTLE TO BOOST WAGES VAIN, SAYS PLUMB

Tells Labor Delegates
Each Raise Simply Is
Tacked on H. C. L.

Statements by Glenn E. Plumb that the trade union movement for wage increases is wrong in principle and not getting anywhere, and that some day labor may be paying for the privilege of working yesterday startled delegates to the Chicago convention called to form a national labor party.

Mr. Plumb, who is the attorney for fourteen railroad brotherhoods, made a plea for his "Plumb plan," which he wishes applied to the railroads and which could be applied to other industries as a substitute labor program.

"After a ten year fight by 124 labor organizations to increase wages, they found that the cost of living went up more," he said. "They are about fifty points behind now, and if they keep on they may be paying for the privilege of working."

During the morning a resolution advocating the "nationalization of land" was greeted with cheers.

Farmer delegates shouted: "Where do we get off?" however, and the resolution was tabled for further consideration by the resolutions committee.

It is expected if it is introduced again in its present form a split will take place among the delegates, due to the fact that a number are from farmers' organizations.

All over the huge carmen's hall various committees were busy all day on matters in connection with the formation of the national labor party.

"The action of Judge Anderson in issuing the coal strike injunction was to intimidate the miners, but they called his bluff," Duncan McDonald, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, declared last night at a "protest mass meeting against government by injunction," which was staged by the national labor party convention.

"Attorney General Palmer says he has discovered 60,000 Reds in this country," McDonald continued, "but he is wrong. There are 60,000,000, and it is Judge Anderson and Mr. Gary who cause them. It's not the Russians who are the agitators, but Anderson and Gary."

Gov. Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota, billed to speak, was not present.

It. I'd spend the rest of my life in the penitentiary. No. Not for me."

Again he fixed his gaze on the waves tumbling on the beach. Then he reached into his pocket. He drew out a wallet. He peeled off thirteen $1,000 bills.

"Here," he said, and handed them over.

Again and again he reached into the purse. Out came a negotiable cashier's check for $11,000 made out in his name. Then a roll of currency. Then some commercial paper.

"Hold this a minute. I'll be right back," he said, quietly. He left the room and was gone.

Knew He Was Suspected.

For four days Miles had worked at his desk in the bank knowing that Meyer, examiner for the Chicago Clearing House association, was conducting an audit four months in advance of the usual time for the sole purpose of uncovering the frauds he had perpetrated.

He had borrowed from every possible source to cover the shortages. His stock gambling had caused. One friend gave $10,000, another $4,000, another $5,500, others various sums.

It developed last night that he had been playing the big industrial stocks "short" in anticipation of a great break in the market that would net him a fortune. Instead of breaking, the market crept up day by day and he had to find money to cover his margins, held under the names of his relatives, at Hornblower & Weeks, brokers, in the New York Life building.

Method of Operation.

To get the money he would go into the bank's vaults and take a batch of gilt edge bonds. At another bank he would borrow on them. Then before the bonds were missed, he would go to the bank and explain that he wanted to sell the particular bonds held as collateral. He gave a trust receipt, took the bonds, and promised to substitute others in their stead.

One day his financial castle started tumbling. He was forced to get out of the market just before the expected break came and the price of stocks skidded down.

Meyer had noticed the unusual number of trust receipts, scattered about against Miles' name in various banks. He investigated and found the corresponding stocks in the Standard Trust vaults.

Traded on Position.

"His official position enabled him to make the loans and then withdraw the securities without question," said Examiner Meyer last night. "I suspected him for six months before I was sure, and then I went into the bank without notice four months ahead of my schedule. He sat at his desk four days and watched me. Then he knew he was caught."

President Castle spent the day at the bank attempting to check up on the amount of loss sustained by his institution and discover who the other victims were. He said he was satisfied the Standard Trust's loss was not over $25,000. Of this amount, $10,000, he said, was covered by the bond of the Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland.

His transactions consisted in the manipulation of trust receipts for securities pledged at other banks to secure his personal loans," said Castle.

Banks Examine Books.

A hasty examination of the books of a score of banks in the city which have had recent deals with Miles will be conducted today to determine whether or not they have been hit by his speculations. It was declared that the exact amount of the losses sustained through his manipulations will not be known for weeks.

This necessitated the searching of foreign markets for RARE and SUPERIOR LEATHERS, the designing of SMART, YET PRACTICAL, LASTS over which the shoes were to be made, and the training of CRAFTSMEN who transformed SHOE MAKING into an ART.

For nearly seventy years this policy has been followed, with the result that EDWIN CLAPP SHOES are generally recognized as realizing the HIGHEST STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE.

GIRL HURLED TO ROAD FROM AUTO GONE IN MYSTERY

"THE AUTO MYSTERY."
PLACE: Western avenue, one mile north of Blue Island.
TIME: 2:15 a. m. Sunday.
THE CAST: The mysterious girl; unknown men; auto parties.
PROPS: Automobiles, cloudy sky, etc.

If you ask Miss Margaret Culliton of 4716 West Congress street she will tell you it was very mysterious. The shrill wall of a locomotive whistle, headlights flashing and—
But let her tell it.
"I was one of a party returning from Blue Island early Sunday morning. There were three young men, another woman, and myself.

"There was an auto in front of us, whizzing along toward Chicago.
"As we came to a railroad crossing this car shot in front of a long freight train and we were left behind. After the train passed we went on.
"Girl Thrown from Car.
"Our headlights played on a form in the center of the road. We stopped. It was a pretty girl, nicely dressed. She was moaning and crying that her leg had been broken.
"They threw me out of their car," she sobbed.
"We helped her to her feet, but she couldn't stand, being faint and apparently seriously hurt.
"We got back into our car to see if we could catch the machine that was leading us. Just as we got in two other machines came from the south and stopped. They appeared suspicious of us. We told them we were going to catch the other car.
"They said they'd take the girl to the Washington Park hospital, and we started away.
"We didn't catch the other machine, although we drove fast. We saw the men load the girl into their car. It was all so mysterious."

All Trace of Victim Lost.
The Washington Park hospital reported it had received no such emergency case. Neither had any other south side hospital, nor had Morgan Park police or others heard of it. So there you are.

Link New Orleans with Chicago, Says Congressman

"Chicago and New Orleans should be linked together by the closest commercial ties and the most efficient transportation. The destiny of the Mississippi valley lies between them," said Congressman James O'Connor of New Orleans, who came to Chicago yesterday to speak at the fifty-second anniversary of "Manchester Martyr" day at Orchestra hall this evening. Former Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff of New York, another speaker, will arrive this morning.

QUITTING MOVING CAR, BREAKS LEG.
Patrick Sullivan, 3266 Archer avenue, fractured his left leg last night as he stepped from a moving street car at Richmond and State streets. He was taken to the People's hospital.

FRISCO ARREST RECALLS LOVE TRAGEDY HERE

A telegram from the San Francisco police to the detective bureau last night told of the arrest there of Edward De Groat, alias Eddie James, alias Lee Herman, on a charge of murder.

On Aug. 3, 1917, it was charged that De Groat shot and killed William Tate in his home, 1701 Crilly court. De Groat was formerly a roomer in Tate's home. He fell in love with Mrs. Tate, she said, and she resented his attentions, and he was compelled to move.

Mrs. Tate said he appeared at their home at 6 o'clock in the morning, and while she and her husband were in bed forced them to arise, sent Mrs. Tate into the kitchen and her husband into the dining room. Mrs. Tate fled out of the back door and Tate started to run, when he was felled by two bullets.

De Groat escaped, and the last heard of him he was in the mountains of Tennessee.

Unidentified Woman, 55, Taken Ill in Movie, Dies

An unidentified woman, about 55 years old, became suddenly ill in the Elmore Moving Picture theater, at 2408 West Van Buren street, late last night, and was carried into a confectionery store at 2414, where she died before a physician could be summoned. Death was believed due to heart failure.

The woman was dressed in a dark blue serge suit, a brown velvet finish coat, and wore black shoes. Her hair was gray.
A rent receipt found in her pocket was made out to "A. Loomis, 2926 Lexington street." The police were informed Mr. Loomis had moved to Hammond. The woman is supposed to have been a roomer with the Loomises.

CRIME PREVENTION IS TOPIC.
The Central Howard association will hold a conference on crime prevention today at the Union League club. George W. Dixon will preside. Judge Victor P. Arnold will speak on "The Juvenile Delinquent," and Miss Harriet Vitum on "The Jail—the Threshold of the Crime School." Other speakers will be Judge Hugo Fann, Attorney Edwin W. Sims, and F. Emory Lyon, superintendent of the association.

BOAT TIES UP 2 BRIDGES AND RIVER 10 HOURS

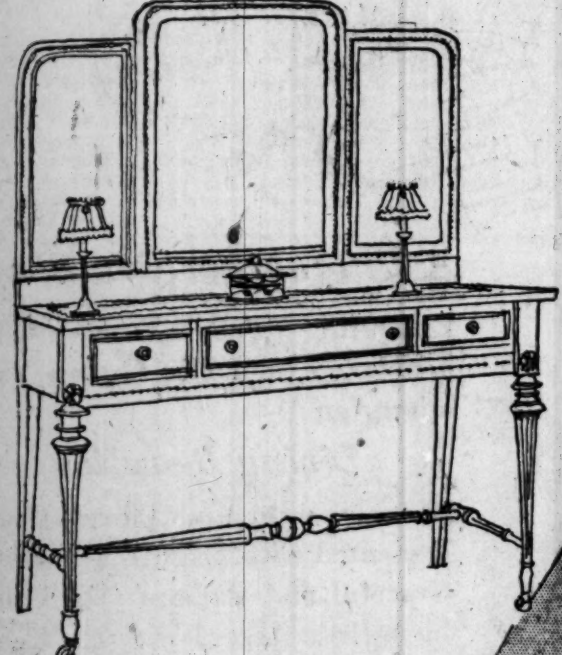

Practically all river and vehicle traffic over and under the Clark and Dearborn street bridges was held up for ten hours yesterday, after a 350 foot freighter with a capacity of 4,000 tons lodged in the river, in attempting to take the left side of the stream between the two bridges.

Five tugs pulled at both ends of the stranded vessel for many hours before the great weight could be budged. During this time the two "blades" of the Dearborn street bascule bridge remained up, and the Clark street bridge remained slightly turned on its pivot so that neither automobiles nor street cars could cross the river. Pedestrians were permitted to cross the Clark street bridge.

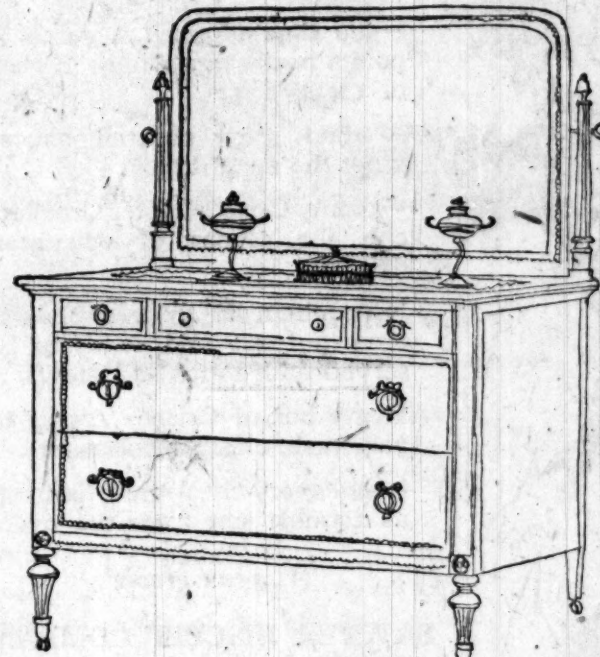

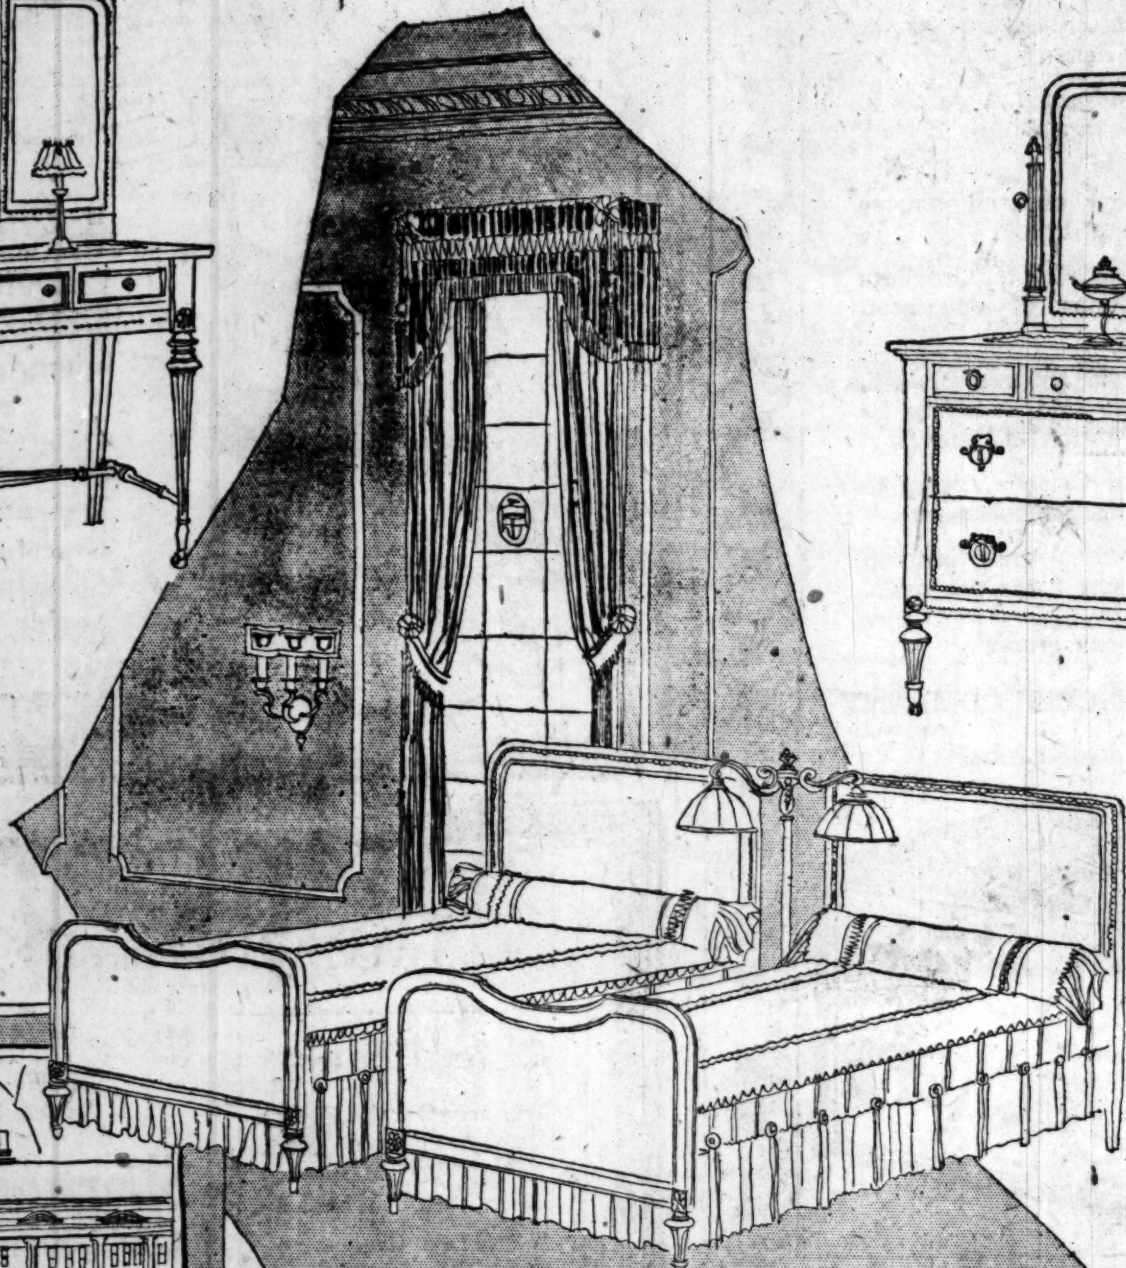

Shortly after 3 o'clock the vessel was liberated. It was found that its bow and stern had been damaged and that the piling of the two bridges had been severely crushed.

GET RICH QUICK CRAZE BOOMING LONDON STOCKS

Many Worthless Companies Trapping Public by Lurid Ads.

BY JOHN S. STEELE.

Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.
LONDON, Nov. 23.—The London stock exchange is experiencing a boom greater than anything in its history. The get-rich-quick craze has struck the British people, and the company promoters are being sold as fast as the printing presses can turn them out. While some of them no doubt represent real value, a good many represent only good white paper spoiled. In one day this week one daily paper contained the prospectuses of new companies calling for the subscription of capital to the amount of over $70,000,000 and this only represented a fraction of the new flotations on that day. There are two reasons for this tremendous after the war boom in stock speculation. One is that there are hundreds of thousands of people who have made money during the war, have saved some of it, and are looking for profitable investment. Probably three-quarters of them have had no experience in investment, and are easy marks for the clever promoter. Anything that looks good can be sold today with a minimum of investigation. Another reason is that all flotation of new companies was stopped by law during the war, and this prohibition extended even to the increase of capital

SONGS TO AID OLD FOLKS' HOME BUILDING FUND

Bricks for a song! "Would that they were!" sighed the old folks. But, undaunted by the high cost of building—plans are afoot at the Old People's home at 4724 Vincennes avenue for a new building. A series of benefit concerts has been arranged by S. B. Edmondson, chairman of the building committee. Charles W. Clark, baritone, will appear at the initial concert today at the home. "Songs for bricks" will be the watchword for the building fund concerts.

CHARLES W. CLARK

of sound existing undertakings. There is, therefore, a large accumulation of perfectly legitimate enterprises which have been waiting for the end of the war for flotation, and hundreds of old companies which wanted fresh capital for extension and betterment have also been waiting. Now that the ban is off all these have flocked into the market. Women are flocking into the market and buying freely both for investment and speculation.

Order New York Printers to Go Back to Their Work

New York, Nov. 23.—A mandate issued by the executive council of Typographical Union No. 6 ordering its striking members to return to work was accepted by a vote of three to one at a meeting of "Big Six" today. Leaders of the insurgent element announced they would decide tomorrow whether to go back or stick it out.

PAYNE MOVES TO CUT OFF WAR FAT OF SHIP OWNERS

Issues New Doctrine of "Just Compensation" by Government.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—A new doctrine of "just compensation," which is expected to cause consternation among ship owners whose vessels were requisitioned during the war, has been decided upon by John Barton Payne, chairman of the shipping board.

In a statement approved by Mr. Payne outlining the new policy, it is declared the government has treated shipowners more liberally than any other class of business during the war and, in effect, permitted them to profiteer.

Figures are presented alleging that the rate of charter hire prescribed in the early days of the war enabled shipowners whose vessels were requisitioned by the government to make an annual net profit on their investment of 57 1/2 per cent.

File Huge Claims.

The new policy is established as a result of the refusal of a considerable number of shipowners to accept settlements on the basis laid down by the board. Some of these owners now have presented claims for "consequential damages."

Among the claimants is the Bethlehem Steel company, whose head, Charles M. Schwab, served as director general of the Emergency Fleet corporation. His company is seeking a large sum because the requisitioning of its vessels prevented it from transporting ore from South America to its plants in this country.

The Gulf Refining company, another claimant, has filed demands for a total of $5,512,057, and that it intends to make a strong legal fight is indicated by its list of attorneys, including Thomas W. Gregory, former attorney general.

"Not Entitled to Cent."

Mr. Payne has thrown down the gauntlet to this array of lawyers by flatly declaring that the shipowners are not entitled to a cent for "consequential" damages and that, furthermore, they received under the prescribed rate of charter hire much more than they were entitled to.

A majority of the shipowners whose vessels were requisitioned signed contracts at the specified rate of charter hire. The new policy does not affect them, except in cases where they have failed to make a proper accounting to the board for sums received as operators of the requisitioned ships. Large sums of money have been retained in this manner pending final settlement of claims with the board.

WAUKEGAN 'REDS' COWED AS YANKS ATTEND RALLY

Drop Demonstration When War "Vets" Crowd Meeting.

A radical demonstration announced for Waukegan yesterday under the auspices of the Amalgamated Association of Steel, Iron, and Tin Workers failed to materialize.

Fifteen hundred striking members of the association were present, as well as a number of speakers, leaders in recent labor walkouts. But also in attendance were Mayor J. P. Bidinger, the chief of police, seventy-five special officers, and sixty-five members of the American Legion, headed by Lieut. A. V. Smith, late of the 149th field artillery.

All of the speeches were mild in tone. The most aggressive was that delivered by George C. Bulk, organizer for the machinists in the Chicago district. Referring to the steel strike, he said:

"We'll stay out until Judge Gary is in Germany playing pinocchle with the Kaiser."

The chief speaker was M. F. Tighe, national president of the association.

SLAIN SOLDIER'S BABY IS CHARITY HOSPITAL WARD

Baby Evelyn Theurer, 15 months old, the daughter of an American soldier who lost his life in France, is a charity patient at the County hospital, it was learned yesterday.

Mrs. Frank Francisovich, 6922 Lowe avenue, the baby's guardian, told the story of Evelyn's life.

"On Dec. 13, last," she said, "Mrs. Theurer, whom I had never seen before, asked if I would take her baby, as she had learned I took care of children some years ago. She said she was compelled to go west."

"I was glad to do something for a baby whose father had given his life for his country, so I consented."

"Several days later Evelyn appeared to be ill, so I called the Mary Thompson hospital, where she had been."

"That baby isn't in a private home, is it?" asked Dr. Michael. "Why, it is diseased."

"I didn't know what to do, so I called the board of health and was told to take the baby to the county hospital, where she remained until July."

Then they told me she was cured, but I found she was far from well. She is at the hospital again."

"The baby's mother, who is in Montana, has promised she will take the child as soon as a certificate is permitted, but meantime Evelyn must depend on charity."

Building and Construction

Nearly 1200 per cent gain!

That is the tremendous gain in the Building and Construction program of Chicago during the past October over October, 1918. A total of 758 permits at an estimated cost of $16,948,050 were issued by the City of Chicago. This is likewise a gain of 25.6 per cent over the $13,483,600 worth of permits for the past September. And November promises to eclipse all previous records. During the first six days the estimated cost of permits issued was $4,593,700.

Without any reservation these figures prove the fact of a Building and Construction Boom of extraordinary proportion, which continues to expand from month to month.

Build now and you are certain of large and sure returns on your investment.

CHIMES JAILED: DANCERS CATCH COLDS?

Blue and Pink Ones,
Too: "Costumes for a Shimmy Party."

What a shimmy party without a costume? More than half a dozen of the former, were seized early yesterday morning and now lie in the East Chicago avenue jail—all because Anton Kalrth, 3843 Belmont avenue, carried too long in his possession of W. G. Callahan at 1039 North Clark street.

When Sergt. Holmes, McLaughlin, and Sullivan dropped in to investigate complaint that Callahan was selling liquor, they found Kalrth, Milton, 4409 Normal avenue; Bessie, 4409 Normal avenue; and Mabel, 1039 Monticello street, seated in the back room.

Grab the "Evidence."
The women were drinking near beer, the men were drinking whisky. When the liquor for evidence, Sergt. McLaughlin was drawn to a package which Kalrth was trying to conceal the package the policeman saw eight chemises—pink and pale blue.

"These are my samples," said Kalrth. "I am a chemise salesman." The policeman and his guests were taken to the Chicago avenue police station and booked under the liquor and seizure law. When they were released several hours later the women remained in custody, as Sergt. Holmes believes they may have been seized.

Reveals Secret—Almost.
Kalrth pleaded in vain for their release. To Lockup Keeper John O'Garra revealed the secret.
"I was on my way to a 'shimmy' party. I am a musician and was to play the concertina and also furnish costumes." "Where is this party?" said O'Garra.

"I can't tell you, but if those women could they'll blame me."

"Did the American army like sponge cake?" Ask Miss Marion Oliver, said to have made enough sponge cake in France to soak up the English channel. Oliver of the Virginia hotel and formerly was connected with the Chicago public library.

CLYNE SHARPENS AX FOR SUGAR PROFITEERS

District Attorney Clyne is sharpening his ax for the sugar profiteer. He announced yesterday that persons who have been charging more than a reasonable price for sugar will get the same drastic treatment as was accorded the "blue sky" pirates and other violators of federal statutes.

He added that the name of the wholesaler who sold sugar at 20 cents a pound to Harry Rosenthal, a grocer at 2309 Cottage Grove avenue, had been obtained and that the man would be dealt with under the provisions of the Lever act.

CHARGES CAUSE NEIGHBORS' MOVE TO OUST 'HOME'

Petition Asks Authorities to Act Against Institution.

Following charges by Mrs. Ray Glickman that her aged mother had been mistreated while in the Betha sanitarium at 4732 Dorchester avenue, residents in the vicinity are mobilizing to have that institution ousted. They claim they have been annoyed for several months by its presence in their neighborhood.

Groans and harsh commands, attempts of inmates to jump out of windows, and the midnight removal of corpses are some of the annoyances they specify. A petition—the second of its kind—was circulated yesterday. As yet it has not been addressed to any particular official.

Text of Petition.
"The undersigned residents of Dorchester avenue and East Forty-seventh place desire to call your attention to the existence of a public nuisance located at the southwest corner of Forty-seventh place and Dorchester avenue. It begins, 'This home is masquerading as a rest cure, but is in reality and fact an institution for the cure of insane persons, some of whom at least are hopeless cases. They are held in restraint and are unquestionably subjected to various forms of abuse, as cries and sounds of conflict are often heard by persons in the neighborhood. Repeated attempts to escape are made by these unfortunate, who are forcibly returned to the house by the attendants. The signers of this petition trust that steps will be taken to abate this disturbing element in our neighborhood.'

A similar petition, with twenty signatures, was delivered to the health department through Ald. Charles S. Eaton nearly two months ago. It was drawn up by Mrs. Belle B. Hyman of 1368 East Forty-seventh place, an attaché of the public library. Investigators of the health department reported nothing wrong, however. "The inmates try to jump out of the windows, and they race up and down the alley, pursued by the attendants," said Mrs. Hyman last night. "There is a Negro janitor whom I sometimes see handling these poor little women."

To Meet Today.
This morning the complaining residents will gather in the drug store of H. B. Cole and tell their troubles to Charles A. Brayne, chief investigator of the Illinois Humane society, to whom the Glickman complaint was made. Ald. Eaton has requested a report of his finding and, if necessary, will take action to have the sanitarium ousted.

Mrs. Botha Abernathy and her daughter, Grace, who operate the place, were noncommunicative when called by a reporter last night.

"We'll tell you nothing," said the former, hanging up the receiver.

TUNNEL WORKERS VOTE STRIKE, BUT AWAIT SANCTION

Division 312 of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America voted to strike last night if the Chicago Tunnel company does not recognize their union and grant them an increase. No date was set. W. D. Mahon, international president, and the executive board of the union at Detroit were wired for permission to strike.

The vote was 184 to 19, and the men, who operate small electric freight trains in the tunnel around the loop, say they are determined to enforce their demands. Several conferences have been held with Sherman W. Tracy, president of the tunnel company, and John C. Payton, secretary, who say if more revenue can be obtained the men will get a raise. They are seeking the public utilities commission's permission to raise rates.

FARMERS FIGHT OWNERSHIP PLAN

Several farmer delegates to the conference held Friday and Saturday to agree on a legislative program for farmers' organizations and labor unions called at Trust Turners office last night to protest against the action taken in favor of a public ownership plan for railroads, ships, and other utilities.

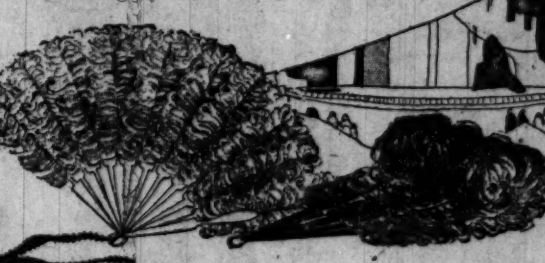

William A. Bowen of Arlington, Tex., representing the "Texas Farmers' union," told a reporter that Warren S. Stone, head of the railroad engineers, asserted that delegates who did not favor the platform would be "steam rolled." "Organized farmers oppose by a large majority government control and operations of any private industries," Bowen said. "Our organizations instructed us to oppose such resolutions and we did." With Bowen was G. T. McEliderry of Talladega, Ala., of the Alabama Farmers' union, and John A. Simpson of the Oklahoma Farmers' union.

A Gift That Will Endure—An Oriental Rug

Its charm will grow with the years, and its beauty will remain—its place in the home will be difficult to fill, for it brings with it not only its own beauty, a thing of tone and color and woven thread, but also the intangible spirit of that beauty that is as ancient as it is elusive—the hint of age-old marvels, the spirit of the East where the first Christmas was celebrated.

MASON IS EAGER TO TACKLE WILDE AT HIS WEIGHT

South Bend Boy Would Scale In at Limit Desired by Britisher.

BY RAY PEARSON.

You have to give it to this Fort Wayne, Ind., Kid, Frankie Mason. He doesn't appoint his manager to the task of writing his letters. He just digs up a pen and writes 'em himself, and those who read the letter which follows undoubtedly will be convinced that Mason propels a pen as skillfully as he does the padded mitt.

Little Mason, who has fought the best of the bantams, can't see why he can't get a shot at Jimmy Wilde, British flyweight champion. He wants to know why, and in his letter explains a few things which are very close to the facts.

Makes Wilde's Own Weight.

The letter is self-explanatory, and here it is:

I feel and believe you could be made to understand that I am the legitimate opponent for Wilde, for besides being able to practically make his weight, 105 to 107 pounds, which I will guarantee to do, I have beaten every American boy whom Wilde has defeated, including Pal Moore, Johnny Roser, Zulu Kid and Joe Lynch, with whom I boxed twelve rounds to a draw referee's decision. I also defeated Patience Wallace at Cleveland, May 1.

Now, Wilde is a lightweight. So am I. Then why not settle that question first, then take the bantams into consideration.

Conceding Weight for Years.

You dwell extensively on the fact that Wilde is giving away weight, yet I have been doing the same for years. Why am I not deserving of as much publicity and support as he, for I am Amer. an born and have always given up very few efforts to the boxing game?

And when any of the bantams are considered, I have backing in real money, when they are ready to make the real bantam weight limit, which should be 110, as you know.

I only wish to be justly recognized through honest efforts.

NOTES FOR GOLFERS.

Also, Jimmy, former Ridgecrest professional, now at Menomonee, Wis., in the city. He will sail for Scotland Dec. 6, to visit his parents at St. Andrews. Also reports that the new nine hole course at Menomonee, laid out by Tom Bendelso, will be one of the best in Wisconsin.

The Westmoreland club will serve a Thanksgiving dinner on Thursday. Provided the weather is fine, a goodly crowd of diners and players is expected out.

WHAT HE BEGINS?

MANY an estate has suffered loss through an unforeseen break in its management. The executor or trustee passed away—could not complete the plans he had started.

This is a risk no testator need take if he names a trust company. It is permanent, always accessible, never disabled.

This Company offers an unusual service for a moderate fee. Its expert facilities have been developed by thirty years' experience. It knows how to proceed under wills, promptly, efficiently and economically.

Anticipating Christmas

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving—and Thanksgiving is the very threshold of Christmas.

Under-production has a very direct bearing upon Christmas plans this year, making early Christmas shopping more imperative than ever to those who would be sure of avoiding disappointment.

This store today is filled with Christmas merchandise. But many assortments when sold cannot be replaced. In many other instances replacement values make obvious the fact that present prices are decidedly favorable.

So the wise will start Christmas plans at once and accomplish all they can this week.

Finer Hand-Bags

First Chosen Gifts

At every Christmas a new hand-bag. Somehow that seems to be the way of every woman's wishes.

And surely they may be gratified with fine success with these assortments as source, from which three groups are singled out for especial featuring.

Velvet Bags at $9.70

Duvelty Bags at $10.80

Beaded Bags at $13

The variedness in the velvet bags is highly interesting. The frames are simple and rich-looking to correspond with the fineness of the velvet.

The duvelty bags are uncommonly smart and expertly made. Some have exquisite jeweled clasps. Others have shell frames.

And in the beaded bags color and design have been most artistically worked out. One bag from each group is sketched.

First Floor, North.
